

I am Simgiran

I have never smoked.

I live in the Czech Republic.

I like music. Sometimes I can listen to it for hours.

I am mainly attracted to tween boys but I am also attracted towards adult women.

I hate the current Czech president.

I am studying for a master's degree in a field of natural sciences.

I love jokes.

I tend to be worried about my future career.

I came out to someone else for the first time when I was 21.

I tried to run LED on 220 V when I was 4.

I am 25.

I still haven't come out to my parents.

I am into BDSM. I had already read BDSM sex stories when I was 14.

I am worried about the activities of China in Czechia.

I love tea. I try all sorts of it: Black, green, oolong, white, Pu-Erh, yellow. I've tried over 100 sorts of it.

I've never been in love. But I think once I was pretty close to falling in love with a 13-year-old boy.

I don't believe in any god. I challenge religious apologetics and special pleading with respect to religion.

I play the piano.

I like beer.

I refuse claims that young people shouldn't be taught about paraphilias. Too many young people have been suffering because they didn't get the information.

I go to bed late.

I have never had sex. I would like to experience it but I am missing a romantic relationship more than sex.

I have realized that I am attracted towards young boys early in puberty. I didn't think it was anything unusual at that time.

I support nuclear power plants.

I hated kindergarten. I didn't have friends there and was bored most of the time.

I am not defined just by my sexual orientation
